

Men's Track & Field

Howard Powell '10
2008 NCAA All-American

Wheaton peaked toward the end of the outdoor season in 2009, posting the highest finish among New England schools at the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Championship. The team then sent a school-record seven athletes to the NCAA meet. The Lyons won the Wheaton Invitational to highlight the indoor season before sending one runner to the national championship. During the outdoor campaign, the Lyons were fifth at the New England Women's and Men's Athletic Conference (NEWMAC) Championship before claiming seventh among 56 teams three weeks later at the ECAC meet.

Nine school records fell between the indoor and outdoor seasons, with Michael Wright '09 playing a hand in five. Cailean Robinson '12 earned All-America honors in the 55m dash at the indoor NCAA Championship. He recorded two all-conference honors at the NEWMAC meet, by joining Wright, Merzudin Ibric '10 and Mark Williamson '11 in the 4x100m relay. Williamson captured the 400m race at the league championship while setting a meet record, and Howard Powell '10 won the 110m hurdles. Wheaton athletes qualified to compete at the NCAA Championship in six events, as the Lyons sent two relay squads to nationals for the first time. Only two scorers from the NEWMAC Championship graduated, as Wheaton looks to remain competitive on the national stage.

Co-head coach
Paul Souza

Entering his 16th year as a Wheaton head men's and women's indoor and outdoor track & field coach and second as co-head coach, Paul Souza has led the men's indoor team to five national finishes of tied for 10th or higher in the last 10 years, and the outdoor team has finished among the top eight three times since 2000.

Souza was voted United States Track Coaches Association (USTCA) National Indoor Coach of the Year in 2002 and the top coach in the conference and region nine and six times, respectively. A USA Track & Field (USATF) Level I and II certified coach and the national vertical jumps chair for men's development, Souza has produced several U.S. Olympic trials qualifiers at Wheaton.

Highly involved with the USATF, Souza was selected as an assistant for the 2005 World University Games and was one of three assistants for the 2004 U.S. World Indoor Track & Field Championship team. In 2001, he was an assistant coach of the U.S. World Junior team and assisted the 1995 U.S. Olympic Sports Festival East team. Souza has also previously been nominated to coach on the Olympic team. In 1987, he founded the Elite Track & Field Series, one of the premier clinics in the country.

An Olympic trials qualifier and collegiate All-American,

Souza earned a bachelor's degree in communications from Pennsylvania State University in 1983 and a master's degree from Eastern Nazarene College in 1985. A native of Mansfield, he still holds the Penn State high jump record.

Co-head coach
Marc Mangiacotti

Marc Mangiacotti begins his sixth year at Wheaton and second as co-head coach of the men's and women's indoor and outdoor track & field programs. In 2008, Mangiacotti was the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) Division III national and regional women's assistant coach of the year.

A Brockton native, Mangiacotti returned north following five years in Texas, where he spent three seasons as the assistant cross country and track & field coach at the Division I University of Houston and two seasons in the same capacity at Sam Houston High School. While at Houston, he earned a master's degree in sports administration in 2002.

A USATF Level I and II certified coach, Mangiacotti assisted Bridgewater State College in cross country and track & field during the 1998-99 season. A 1998 graduate of Bridgewater State, Mangiacotti earned a dual degree in elementary and physical education. He was a four-year member of the cross country and indoor and outdoor track & field teams.
