

RUSSIAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

Minimum courses required: 9, to include a minimum of three courses at the 300-level or higher. If the student is interested primarily in area studies, he/she needs to consult the planning worksheet for the Russian Studies major.

Students interested in majoring in Russian Language and Literature should begin Russian language in their very first semester.

The department also suggests enrollment in Literature and Culture courses, one of which is taught every semester. For a list, see the second list below.

Study in Russia through an approved program is highly recommended but not required.

| Course requirement | Semester Taken |
|---------------------------|-----------------------|
|---------------------------|-----------------------|

FOUR of the following Language courses (beginning at the advanced level):

RUSS 240: Advanced Russian I

RUSS 241: Advanced Russian II

RUSS 242: Advanced Conversation & Grammar

RUSS 243 or RUSS 343: Adv. Russian: Grammar, History, Politics

RUSS 351: Selected Prose Writers

RUSS 352: Russian Poetry

RUSS 370: Russian for Arts, Business and Politics

- | | | |
|----|---|--|
| 1. | | |
| 2. | | |
| 3. | | |
| 4. | | |
| 5. | RUSS 401 or 402: Senior Seminar (in exceptional cases, a substitution may be approved by the Department) | |

FOUR of the following Literature and Culture courses in English or in Russian:

RUSS 101: Russian Folklore

RUSS 200/300: Russian Lit: Icons to Revolution

RUSS 201/301: Russian Lit: From Revolution to the Present

RUSS 203: Russian Drama

RUSS 281: Russian Arts and Culture

RUSS 282: Russian Film

RUSS 284: Women in Russian Culture

RUSS 305: Topics in Russian Literature

RUSS 343: Adv. Russian: Grammar, History, Politics

RUSS 351: Selected Prose Writers

RUSS 352: Russian Poetry

- | | | |
|----|--|--|
| 6. | | |
| 7. | | |
| 8. | | |
| 9. | | |

NOTE:

RUSS 343, RUSS 351 and RUSS 352 may be used only once, either for Language, or for Literature or Culture, but not for both categories.