

Wheaton College/Royal Thimphu College Partnership in Bhutan

Information for Non-Wheaton Students
Fall 2019

As a Wheaton program that offers the equivalent of a full semester's credit at Wheaton, the comprehensive fee for this program is the same as for attending Wheaton in Norton for one semester (which includes tuition, room, and board). Students will not be billed on-campus technology, student activities or laundry fees.

The program is truly comprehensive, as it includes:

- Round Trip Airfare from Boston to Paro, Bhutan
- RTC Tuition & Fees
- Housing (in RTC residence halls)
- Board (meal plan includes three meals per day in RTC dining hall)
- Student Canteen allowance (for additional dining options, including extended hours)
- Five Day Orientation in Paro and Thimphu, Bhutan (hotels, meals and sightseeing)
- Three multi-day excursions (3 to 7 days each including transportation, lodging and food)
- Several additional field trips in Thimphu area
- Visa to study in Bhutan for the duration of the program
- Supplemental Study Abroad Insurance
- Traditional Bhutanese attire (one kira for women or one gho for men)

Other Expenses not included above

Students are responsible for the following additional expenses (if applicable):

- Books & Academic Supplies
- U.S. Passport Fees
- Personal expenses (for entertainment, gifts, souvenirs, etc.)

This website gives you more information about Royal Thimphu College: www.rtc.bu

*Wheaton offers need-based or merit based scholarships of up to $7,500 for students whose colleges have policies that do not allow them to take their financial aid with them on an external program.

*Program details are subject to change at the discretion of the Wheaton College,
Center for Global Education*