Wheaton Hymn
Words by J. Edgar Park
Music by Herbert J. Jenny

We praise Thee, Lord, whose life we are, For those who early They built better than they knew; They trusted where they
A round us dream our towers and spires, And on our college
A hundred years pass like a dream, Yet early founders heard Thy call, Seeking a richer life from far,

could not see; They heard the sound of voices new,
hearth stone cast Red ashes of a hundred fires still are we, Whose works are greater than they seem,

Laying the dearest stones of all, In the grey dawn of Singing of all the years to be; And for both man and
Of all our immemorial past Still glow in warm and Because of what we yet shall be In the bright noon of other days, Mid other men and other ways.

woman kind An inner temple of the mind.
friend rays, Lit by the thoughts of college days.
other days, Mid other souls and other ways.
Wheaton Anthem

Words and Music by Carlton T. Russell

We lift our voices, let them ring, With grateful gladness
We sing of those who cared to sow The plentiful harvest
We hear their story: strong and few, They worked and prayed and Living the dream and dreaming to share With men our founders'
So Wheaton's banner, raise it unfurled To women and men through-

We sing. Joining with others far and near, With that we know, Seeing above horizons then A planned a new Through many toils a dream to save; A vision rare, Risking the storm while charting a new, We out the world; To the oppressed of every race A old and young we gather here To celebrate the woman's life beyond their ken. They strove for freedom fuller life to us they gave. We sing their praises;

journey toward this brighter view As men and women, word of hope, a gift of grace. Not for ourselves our gift they gave, Our founders with their vision brave.

of the mind, A bright new world for woman-kind.
may we too Abundantly live in all we do.
equal, give Unique gifts of self that all may live.
blessings be, But all human-kind, 'til all are free.
